

Human Resources Policy

The Weldtronics Group believe that our most valuable asset is our employees, and that a dedicated and skilled workforce is necessary to achieve success.

Weldtronics Human Resources objectives are:

- To accept responsibility for all Human Resources matters including those of any subcontractors, managing the same pro-actively and to best practice standards.
- To ensure the highest standard of skills and experience are available on all projects, sites and operations.
- To provide working conditions and remuneration packages which are competitive and based on performance, skills and responsibility.
- To promote training, skills enhancement and education as an investment for the company and employee.
- To promote ease of communication at all levels, both upwards and downwards.
- To actively utilise consultative committees to review and improve performance and to quickly, efficiently and fairly resolve any industrial issues.
- To encourage promotion from within wherever possible.
- To promote a “team approach” to problem solving.
- To always work within relevant legislation requirements.

Dave Osman
Managing Director

7th March 2008